Q4IT is an accredited training organization specializing in IT Quality Index courses, including Train-the-Trainer programs and accreditation services. Our training and consulting services are rooted in quality assessment and benchmarking of IT quality through the IT Quality Index framework, which provides a structured and objective approach to evaluating overall IT quality. Learn more at www.itqualityindex.com.

Additionally, we offer the Digital Capabilities Management Model (DCMM), a forward-thinking framework designed for the IT governance community. DCMM empowers organizations to transform their IT management practices by embracing innovative principles such as enhanced collaboration, leveraging value from know-how, and positioning IT as a proactive capability within their organization.
